Sparrow's invasion in WesCo 3A

By John Galbreath
Sports Editor

Sparrow's drinkers have made the Western Conference 3A North hoop title series with an unbeaten record of five games and a 4-0 (1-0 overall) after defeating Everett 79-64 last Tuesday evening.

Junior Matt's charge has now been their first 3A North opponents by an average of 23 points over the course of the month while their remaining unbeaten.

By balancing the 39 points they scored in the first half with the 49 points they scored in the second, the Spurros maintained a steady edge on Gonzales' representatives in the race for the title.

Robert “Bob” Larson
Contributor
Inducted 2013

Bob Larson, as superintendent of schools for the Stanwood district from 1972-1983, was instrumental in securing a federal grant to construct the current athletic fields, tennis courts and football stadium, the latter of which was rededicated in the fall of 2010 as Bob Larson Stadium.

A plaque on the stadium reads: “May his legacy of family first, community involvement and youth engagement in activities live on in the hearts and minds of citizens and students of the Stanwood-Camano community.”

Always a fan at heart and in person, Bob believed that the more kids participated in school activities, the more they were connected to the local schools, their community and their education.

Bob continued his lifelong commitment to Stanwood by serving as its mayor from 1985 until 1993.

Harold “Pug” Lund
Contributor
Inducted 2013

Pug Lund epitomized the term “fan” for nearly 80 years, initially as a fan, football and basketball player for the Lincoln High Lynx (1934-1938) and then later as a beloved team bus driver and as an always-positive audience member who never failed to wear his Spartan red to the games.

- Pug, from his sophomore football season (1935), played both ways; first as center and middle linebacker and eventually playing wide receiver and outside linebacker his senior year.
- It was during the fall of 1937 that the Lynx secured their first Snohomish County Football Championship by outscoring their opponents 168-0 while going undefeated.
- He also did the kicking. Once, on a kickoff, he booted the ball over the opponent’s goalpost.
- During his senior season (1937-1938) as a basketball player, Pug and his teammates went undefeated and earned the Sno-County hoops title.

Pug Lund was the “Original 12” Man.” In 1984 he was recognized as the Stanwood Spartans’ No. 1 fan at halftime of a basketball game.

As a charter member of the booster club, he would pick, shoot and cook up to 300 ears of corn that would be sold at home football games. All of the money earned went to the booster club to support Stanwood students.

Lund not only drove the team bus to away games but served on the chain gang when the football Spartans were playing on the home turf.

MAURICE EDLUND
Individual Athlete

Maurice Edlund played football, basketball and ran track for Lincoln High School (also known as East Stanwood High) from 1937-1941 during an era when those Lynn teams were difficult to beat. He was best known as a tough, two-way player for the Lincoln grid squad.

During his freshman year when Edlund was a reserve, Lincoln won the Snohomish County "B" championship, outscoring their opponents 168-6.

Over the next three seasons, Edlund and his teammates placed third, second and then tied for the league title after beating the Stanwood Pirates 8-0 on Armistice Day, 1940.

Maurice served as honorary captain for that team his senior year along with being voted Most Inspirational that season.

Following WWII military service in the South Pacific, Maurice played both offensive and defensive end and captained the undefeated, untied (10-0) Everett Junior College football team to the 1947 Washington state junior college championship. That squad outscored its opponents by a combined 197 points.

That record, along with the fact that they defeated California powerhouse Santa Rosa Junior College in the Evergreens Bowl in front of an estimated 10,000 fans, garnered the Everett team top honors statewide in only the second year of their existence.
1948-1949 TWIN CITY BASKETBALL TEAM

The 1948-1949 Twin City High Cardinals took second place in the Washington State "B" Basketball Tournament after accumulating a 23-3 overall season record.

The Hank Niemier-coached team won the Tri-County "B" League championship with a 14-9 conference mark and had a 17-2 regular-season mark including a 54-43 exhibition win over the Duke of Connaught five from Vancouver, B.C. Three straight victories earned the Cardinals the NW "B" District championship. During the Washington State "B" Basketball Tournament held at Pacific Lutheran College in Tacoma, Twin City won three in a row over St. John (45-33), Orcing (45-33) and Port Townsend (45-35) before losing 48-47 to Kalama in the title game.

She has written many articles and given presentations on athletic safety, women’s athletics and the purpose of interscholastic programs. Considered by many to be a model of what an athletic director should be, Barbara was also at the forefront of legal issues involving football helmet construction & recertification, sports safety, and equality for girls in sports.

Barbara has been inducted into the Washington Secondary School Athletic Administrators Association (WSAA) Hall of Fame, and the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Hall of Fame. She has been awarded the National Intercollegiate Athletic Administrators Association (NIAAA) Award of Merit, the association’s highest honor, and also a NFHS Citation for athletic directors in 1979. In December, 2011, Barbara was inducted into the NIAAA Hall of Fame, in part for her role as a co-founder of NIAAA which serves interscholastic athletic administrators.

Bob Larson, as superintendent of schools for the Stanwood district from 1972-1983, was instrumental in securing a federal grant to construct the current athletic fields, tennis courts and football stadium, the latter of which was rededicated in the fall of 2010 as Bob Larson Stadium.

A plaque on the stadium reads: “May his legacy of family first, community involvement and youth engagement in activities continue to live on in the hearts and minds of citizens and students of the Stanwood-Camano community.”

Always a fan at heart and in person, Bob believed that the more kids participated in school activities, the more they were connected to the local schools, their community and their education.

Bob continued his lifelong commitment to Stanwood by serving as its mayor from 1985 until 1993.

Harold “Pug” Lund
Contributor
Inducted 2013

Pug Lund epitomized the term “fan” for nearly 80 years, initially as a fan of football and basketball player for the Lincoln High Lynx (1934-1938) and then later as a beloved team bus driver and as an always-positive audience member who never failed to wear his Spartan red to the games.

- Pug, from his sophomore football season (1935), played both ways; first as center and middle linebacker to eventually playing wide receiver and outside linebacker his senior year.
- It was during the fall of 1937 that the Lynx secured their first Snohomish County Football Championship by outscoring their opponents 186-6 while going undefeated.
- He also did the kicking. Once, on a kickoff, he booted the ball over the opponent’s goalpost.
- During his senior season (1937-1938) as a basketball player, Pug and his teammates went undefeated and earned the SnoCounty hoops title.

Pug Lund was the “Original 12” Man. In 1986 he was recognized as the Stanwood Spartans’ No. 1 fan at halftime of a basketball game.

As a charter member of the booster club, he would pick, shuck and cook up to 300 ears of corn that would be sold at home football games. All of the money earned went to the booster club to support Stanwood students.

Lund not only drove the team bus to away games but served on the chain gang when the football Spartans were playing on the home turf.
